Colored Cadets Who Attended West Point

Twelve Young Men of Race Have Been Students in Famous National Military Academy

THREE RECEIVE COMMISSIONS

Flipper, Alexander and Young Graduated. No Colored Cadet Admitted in Last Thirty Years.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—In response to an inquiry forwarded by J. Henry Lewis, 458 American Bank Building, the Adjutant General of the United States Army has given the following information concerning the Negroes who have been nominated to the West Point Military Academy at various times, with data as to when they entered and when they left the Military Academy, and the manner thereof:

The information given shows that three men, Henry O. Flipper, of Georgia; John H. Alexander, of Ohio, and Charles Young, of Ohio, were the only ones to graduate, though twelve were admitted in the years from 1870 to 1886. Young is the only Negro West Point graduate now in the army, he having attained the rank of major, commanding the second battalion of the 10th cavalry, now on duty trying to capture Villa in Mexico. The letter from the adjutant general to Mr. Lewis is as follows:

The following sets forth the names of all Negroes who have been admitted to the United States Military Academy at West Point, together with additional data showing the year in which each man was admitted and the manner and year each left the Academy:

No. 1. James W. Smith, South Carolina, admitted, 1870; discharged 1874.

No. 2. Henry A. Naplier, Tennessee, admitted, 1871; discharged 1872.

No. 3. Thomas Van R. Gibbs, Florida, admitted, 1872; discharged 1873.

No. 4. HENRY O. FLIPPER, Georgia, admitted, 1873; graduated 1877.

No. 5. John W. Williams, Virginia, admitted, 1874; discharged 1875.

No. 6. Johnson C. Whittaker, South Carolina, admitted, 1876; discharged 1882.

No. 7. Charles A. Minnie, New York, admitted, 1877; discharged 1878.

No. 8. JOHN H. ALEXANDER, Ohio, admitted, 1884; graduated 1889.

No. 9. CHARLES YOUNG, Ohio, admitted, 1884; graduated 1889.

No. 10. William T. Andrews, South Carolina, admitted, 1885; discharged 1886.

No. 11. William A. Hare, Ohio, admitted, 1885; discharged 1886.

No. 12. Henry W. Holloway, South Carolina, admitted, 1886; discharged 1886.

Something to Make You Think BY WAY OF RETALIATION

HATS OFF TO THE ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH. It fought a noble though losing fight at St. Louis against the damnable segregation ordinances. The Negroes of that city should rally to its standard in the future and taboo all the other daily papers who raised a voice against them in their great battle for justice in the election held there. As a token of appreciation this great defender of the true American principles of freedom should be welcomed into every Colored home in the entire city, and all of those who aided the denationalization of the race should be openly excluded. Unity of action in carrying out this program would entail a loss of many thousands of dollars annually to each of the papers who took a stand for segregation. Their advertising value would be equally reduced in proportion to the losses sustained in their circulation. The damage would not stop here. The income from 18,000 or 20,000 Colored readers would aggregate an item any daily would give much to avoid. This is the kind of organization the Negroes of St. Louis will find to be the most effective in the final summing up of accounts.

A campaign of careful investigation should be instituted at once of how every tradesman who has hitherto enjoyed a liberal Negro patronage voted on the segregation ordinances. Several "gum-shoe" committees should be put out on this work as soon as possible—the sooner the better. Printed lists of all such persons who took an active part against the cause of the race should be handled through the various ward headquarters and mailed directly to the home of every Negro voter listed on the poll-books with full information as to the stand of the individual on the segregation question. This is a practical method of retaliation, and easy of accomplishment. If it is carried out the merchants in the heavily populated Negro districts of the city will be made to rue, most bitterly, their part in bringing about this unlawful humiliation. The silent contemplation of the wreck they have made of their commercial future will make them secretly curse the man or set of men who originally fostered the plan of forcing these ordinances upon the people. This sort of thing would show the "double-crossers" that there is absolutely a new Negro to deal with, now-a-days, who refuses to "turn the other cheek" to the cowardly blows of American prejudice.—The Indianapolis Ledger.

"THAT MAN OWNES HIS HOME."

(Editorial in Indianapolis Ledger.)

THE OTHER DAY ONE OF THE GREAT DAILY PAPERS carried a full page illustration of two men holding a conversation, and one was pointing to a third man passing, a man with a confident, determined, successful air about him, and the man pointing said: "That Man Owns His Home."

This was not an advertising proposition. It was simply a new idea of a great daily paper to impress on the minds of its readers, the importance, the satisfaction, the inspiration of being the possessor of at least one piece of real estate.

This is the season of the year when the mind turns to home changes, and the man who has always paid rent, and has nothing but a bunch of receipts to show for it, ought to sit down and ask himself: "Why continue to pay tribute to Caesar?"

There is one commendable thing about the earnest people of our race: They are investing in real estate more and more each year. Real estate discriminations, segregation ordinances, and the like, are serving only to make them more determined to become a freeholder, a real possessor of a small piece of terra firma, and the home privileges that possession permits.

It is a very inspiring and encouraging sight in traveling from city to city, and from town to town, for that matter, and have some well informed inhabitant of that community accompany you about, and point out place after place, and tell you: "This is owned by Mr. Johnson, one of our highly esteemed citizens." Nothing about the places has the traditional earmarks of "Colored." In external appearance, the most exclusive son of Caucasian blood could justly criticize the arrangement and design.

Go within, and from attic to basement, you will find cleanliness, taste, beauty, comfort, and in not a few instances, real luxury. These places, these homes, are the real beacon lights of racial progress. They are increasing from year to year, as the younger men and women fit themselves for the business life and the professions, as the laborer learns the secret of saving; and now is the time, this spring time, to think where you stand in this analysis of progress, and if you are not "up in the running" get busy and act.

Let it be said of you soon, if not now:

"THAT MAN OWNS HIS HOME."

STRANGE INCONSISTENCIES.

A Colored Servant in Attendance Upon a White Person Given Admission Where Otherwise Denied.

I said that the provisions made for the separation of the races impressed an outsider as being strangely inconsistent. For example: a Colored servant, in attendance upon a white person, is given entrance to public places whereas if the same person, but in an independent capacity, should attempt to enter the same place to which he was before admitted as the attendant upon a white person, admission would be emphatically and peremptorily denied him or her.

I was told of the following cases which illustrate this point.

Race Given Work.

A prominent clergyman of Memphis has a Colored nurse girl; and by the way, the Colored people have an almost exclusive monopoly of domestic work in the South. Not only is this true, but you see Colored men doing the work that generally falls to white men in Northern and Western cities. Whatever else may be said about the South, it is only fair to state that the people of the South give our race the opportunity to work, in many, many lines of employment from which they are excluded in the North.

An Explanation.

I commented on this and one of my facetious friends said: "You know the reason for that, don't you?"

"It's because they are good workmen," I ventured.

"Not only that," he replied, "but you know the Southern white man has what they call the 'hook worm,' a euphuism for laziness, which incapacitates him for work, and as the Negro just loves to work, and somebody must do it, why, our white friends just let us do it. That's why."

As my friend lives there and knows conditions, or ought to know them, it may be the part of wisdom to accept his explanation.

Be that as it may, I was immensely pleased to see the work our people are doing; and I was told that the wages received are reasonably good. You may not know that I have just enough socialistic symptoms to believe that the average wages paid anywhere are seldom as large as they should be; but as wages go, I was told that Colored labor in Memphis receives good wages, and what pleased me more was to learn that the people are putting their wages to good use.

VOTE DOWN BILL FOR COLORED BISHOPS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 31.—By a vote of 157 to 69 the Philadelphia Conference of the M. E. church, March 18, defeated the amendment to the organic law of the denomination, paving the way for the election of negro bishops.

The amendment, known as the "Bishops for Races and Languages" proposal, has already been adopted by a number of white conferences, as well as all Colored ones that have met so far this year. It is expected that the Washington Conference at its session in Richmond, Va., and the Delaware Conference, which meets in this city this week, will vote for its ratification.

The discussion at the Philadelphia Conference was a long and animated one. "Do we draw the color line?" asked the Rev. Dr. Frank F. Parkin, in voicing his opposition. "Yes, we do draw the color line. We want no 'Jim Crow' bishop, a term that has frequently been used in such discussions as this in the last few years.

"I am a friend of the Colored man, but we cannot deny or conceal that racial prejudice exists. We know that there is no possibility of a Colored man's being elected a bishop by our General Conference, nor of a Colored bishop presiding over the deliberations of our own conference. I say, let's stop playing the hypocrite, let's stop playing double and tell our Colored brethren the truth. If there comes a day when we can find a Colored man big and broad enough to become the equal of a white man, then let's have a Colored bishop, but not until then." He also said that the time must come when the Colored churches must form an organization of their own.

"We are satisfied with white supervision," said the Rev. George H. Bickey, "and we assume that the Colored people are also satisfied with it. But just as we have racial ambitions and pride, so has the Colored man. 1 1111 in favor of waiting until a man of sufficient calibre to lead his race is found, and then making him a leader of his own kind." The Revs. David Lord, Cornelius Hudson and Mr. Bickey were among those who favored the proposed amendment as a step towards church democracy.

KILL JIM CROW BILL IN KENTUCKY HOUSE

Louisville, Ky., March 31.—The legislature adjourned, and the infamous Knight Separate Car Bill died in committee of the House. The Senate passed the bill by a vote of 18 to 12, and it was feared that the House would also pass it.

Strong opposition was developed by two of Louisville's strogest white papers, the Courier-Journal and the Evening Post. The mayor spoke against the bill but a number of the commercial organizations favored it.

NEW CITY COUNCILMAN BEGINS OFFICIAL DUTY

Cambridge, Md., March 31.—H. M. St. Clair, who was elected to the City Council from the Second Ward to succeed the late Nehemiah Henry, has assumed his duties. He served in the same body a few years ago.

He is well known in Maryland, being grand master of exchequer for the Knights of Pythias.

Maryland has two other Colored Councilmen, Harry S. Cummings, of Baltimore, and J. Albert Adams, of Annapolis.

FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE

Birmingham, Ala., March 31.—Heading the list of 146 employes of the Birmingham and Mobile division of the Southern Railway, personally presented medals for loyalty by President Fairfax Harrison March 22 was Taylor Parkman, Colored, hammerman in the Selma shops. His service dates from 1858, when as a slave he was owned by the Alabama and Tennessee River Company.

How Would You Like to Be a Public Official?

You would be lied about and slandered if you stood in the way of the political bosses and political crooks.

ROBERT SMITH

Present Clerk of the District Court, is a candidate for re-election, and the batteries of the corrupt political machine are being turned loose on him.

Why? Because he put the jury fee shavers out of business in the Court House by paying jurors cash.

Because he has stood in the way of jury bribing, got one jury to confess having been bribed, which resulted in the representative of one of the big corporations being indicted for jury bribing and finally leaving the town.

Because he drafted the new election law, which makes it impossible for the gang to steal elections, and because he has appointed all the help in his office without consulting the bosses.

NOW they accuse him of retaining fees unlawfully. This is an absolute falsehood. Robert Smith never received one dollar of insanity fees that were not promptly turned over to the County Treasurer. Under the law, naturalization fees were part of the salary of the office at the time Mr. Smith became Clerk of the District Court. His predecessor in office received and retained these fees, which are earned under the federal statute, and no one ever questioned his right to them until Mr. Smith began putting the gang out of business.

Mr. Smith, as Clerk of the District Court, has turned in surplus fees of over $10,000.00 each year, which is three times the amount turned into the County Treasury by any of his predecessors.

Robert Smith should have the support of every citizen who is opposed to jury bribing, corrupt elections and machine rule.—Adv.

THE EAVES CASE.

An eleven-year-old Colored boy of Des Moines has been expelled from school, arrested and sentenced to the reform school because of his refusal to salute the flag.

We believe the judge who so sentenced Hubert Eaves exceeded his authority and will receive the condemnation of all right-thinking Americans.

The boy was not vicious. He was not charged with delinquency. The press dispatches say he had given his teacher no special trouble. His offense was refusal to salute the flag. He said his religion—his parents belong to some new religious cult—forbade his saluting anything or anybody but God. Moreover, he claimed that the flag did not protect his people, but allowed them to be insulted, mobbed, and Jim-Crowed with impunity. Who will deny that there is a vast deal of truth in what Hubert Eaves says? And what Hubert Eaves says scores and scores of Colored youth are thinking and saying throughout the United States of America.

Just a few days ago, an Omaha High school boy, and he is a boy of brilliant mind, fine morals and high ideals, said to us: "The American flag don't mean much to us! It doesn't do anything to protect us at home or abroad. Of course, it means something to the white man, but as to protecting Colored people, bah! When I'm older I believe I'll go to South America where our chances are better."

We cite this to show that in other communities besides Des Moines there are other Colored youth, older than the Des Moines lad, who think very much like he does.

We believe that everything should be done to discourage any sentiments as these. We should teach our children that this is their country, and that no other class group has a better right to claim it as their country than have we. This, however, cannot be done by the tactics employed by the doubtless well-meaning but blundering Des Moines judge. Unless the little Colored lad can sincerely salute the Stars and Stripes, the symbol of his country—his equally with that of any other American youth—because he loves it, believes in it and is ready to defend it, forcing him to do it is but forcing him to be a hypocrite. Patriotism is not engendered by duress. The methods of the Des Moines authorities will in our judgment engender hatred rather than love for the flag.

We do not believe that Hubert Eaves has been guilty of an offense which justifies his detention in any reformatory institution and that the people of Des Moines should see to it that he is released at once.

CHANCE FOR AN EDUCATION

We call the attention of our aspiring boys and girls to the four scholarships which the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs have at their disposal, the purpose of which is to assist worthy boys and girls in Nebraska to secure an education. The notice which we publish elsewhere in this issue states that "these scholarships are open to any boy or girl in the state of Nebraska who can meet the requirements."

We feel quite sure that among our readers are boys and girls who can meet the requirements and we urge such to make application.

There will be two more issues before the primaries. Candidates who desire to get their names before the Colored voters in the way that will count should use our columns. Our rate is 50 cents an inch per issue. Minimum amount taken, two inches. Had to refuse 'ads' this week because all space taken. Catch the significance of this fact please. If advertising justifies it and we believe it will, we'll double our size next issue to accommodate those desiring space. Phone Webster 4243 and representative will call. Turning down requests for advertising space and only an infant of eight months is going some. Thank you. Glad you recognize a good medium when you see it!

The Monitor is the only publication devoted to the interests of the Colored people, not only in Omaha, but in the whole state. This is a fact we want to impress upon the advertising public. The value of such a publication will at once commend itself to the up-to-the-now advertisers.

If you have moved since last election be sure to Register. Do it Now. Upon your vote may depend the election of the president, a senator or a congressman. Register and Vote.

"THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST"

Two sets of desires are in every one. It is left with each individual to follow, which one they will. There is a struggle in every life for "The Survival of the Fittest," and by our choice we make the good or the evil survive.

In addition to this there is also a struggle going on between the different individuals of the human family. This struggle for existence that you see so forcibly illustrated about you every day is perhaps more noticeable because it is objective.

There are men striving to obtain the same envied possession through different means; there are those who strive for honor, for fame, for pleasure, for power, and for wealth. The end they all have in view is selfish pleasure. In their mad rush for these various prizes they walk over their fellow men and crush them down. They break all the laws of man and God and still on they rush after their coveted possession only to see it vanish as a mirage in the desert. Satisfaction is too precious a jewel to be obtained by any of these means.

There is another class who have lost sight of self and self interests and are working to make this world a place in which men may live better. They are working for the good of all. These are they who find satisfaction. They survive all other men; they are the fit men. They hold the reins of all prosperous conditions. Upon such shoulders, the responsibilities of the world are resting. Blessed indeed is the race which has leaders like these holding the helm.

If we ever build up a strong people and one that shall be great among the nations of history, her pillars must rest upon the foundation of true manhood and womanhood. Every people must have this requisite if it shall be found fit to survive.

L. S. E.

CATHOLIC CHURCH REDUCING RACE PREJUDICE

There is no organization in the South or anywhere else in this country, religious or secular, that is doing as much to soften down and reduce race prejudice as the Catholic Church. It never loses an opportunity to extend aid and sympathy to Colored people, whether they are Catholics or protestants. This fact is too much overlooked by the masses of the Colored race.

Sometime ago a priest who had devoted many years to the work among the Colored people in Louisiana died, and a Colored priest was celebrant at his funeral, while the others who officiated, deacons and sub-deacons were white priests. This and many other acts of this great Church ought to be genuine proof of its true and real friendship toward the Colored people.

White people carried the Colored people into slavery, white people carried them out of slavery and white people will have to carry them out of the prejudice that now surrounds them. The Catholic Church is preparing the way.—The Reformer.

GOD MADE ME BLACK.

By Lucian B. Watkins.

God made me Black. It is to Him I owe

Whate'er my mission in the mighty plan—

The Trinity resolved in making man.

White, Yellow, Red, and Brown—God made them so—

He made me Black; and, toilers all, we go—

Each to his task. Though robed in white or tan,

'Tis but the service of the soul that can

Make known the measure of the man below.

We prize the gleaming glory of the day—

No less we love the beauty of the night;

We pause to hear the song-bird's roundelay,

And praise its coat of color or of white—

For deeper than the reach of mortal sight

God has ordained and marked His men of clay.

Cebu, Philippine Islands.

WE SHOULD NOT WORRY.

"Worry would kill a horse," says Mrs. Clara Z. Moore, health expert. "There is no sickness more insidious, no drug more poisonous than the continued effects of worry."

"Proper physical exercise will remove the worry and the tired-out condition that causes it. A sick body often produces a sick mind, and the opposite is also true that a sick mind causes a sick body.

"The moral is, 'If you do not want to be sick, do not worry.'"

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO AWARD FOUR SCHOLARSHIPS SOON

Omaha, Neb., March 31.—Four scholarships, the purpose of which is to assist worthy boys and girls in Nebraska to secure an education, are at the disposal of the scholarship committee of Women's clubs. These scholarships, two of them in the University of Omaha, one in the Lincoln Military Academy, and the other in the Kearney Military Academy, are open to any boy or girl in the state of Nebraska who can meet the requirements.

Applicants must carry an endorsement from some club, a member of the State Federation of Women's clubs, an endorsement from a minister, another from some business man in the city where the applicant lives, and another from the teacher to whom the applicant last went for instruction.

Applications must be made before June 15, when the awards will be made. Mrs. F. H. Cole of Omaha, chairman of the scholarship committee, will give detailed information. The Omaha University scholarships carry free tuition, while the Lincoln Military Academy scholarship carries half tuition and board.

The committee also has a loan fund available, from which loans can be had by worthy applicants for a period of years without interest. Mrs. Cole will also give detailed information on his subject.

OMAHA TAKES 14TH PLACE AMONG CITIES IN BUSINESS

Omaha, Neb., March 31.—With bank clearings more than $25,000,000, Omaha assumed fourteenth place among the cities of the United States last week. Omaha's increase over the corresponding period was 21 per cent, a remarkable showing when general conditions are taken into consideration.

Omaha generally is sixteenth in business, while thirty-third in population. The big clearings were due to unusual activity in the movement of grains and livestock.

Business in general shows a healthy increase over last year, which means that conditions in Nebraska are unusually good at this time.

FIGHTER FOR THE PEOPLE
Opposed the action of Mayor and City Council in 1911 when the Union Pacific R. R. was given free right of way through the City of Hastings at an expense to the tax payers of over $23,000 and for the benefit of certain individuals who had terminal sites for sale.

Opposed the actions of the Mayor and Council in 1911-12, when bids were awarded for sheet Asphalt paving at an average price of $2.16 1/2 per square yard. Since elected Mayor, successfully used his power and influence in protecting the municipal Light and Power Plant, when a proposition was made by a private corporation to furnish electric light and power, which would have resulted in disaster to the municipal plant if the private interests had been successful in their attempt.

MAYOR WM. MADGETT
Hastings, Nebraska
Republican Candidate for Governor

$25,000 Damage Suit in the Federal Court

Since elected Mayor practically rid the city of gamblers, prostitutes and boot leggers and caused the laws to be enforced. As a result of clean government and proper police protection, the city of Hastings is now the cleanest Saloon City in the State and people are rushing to our City as a place to make their homes and are unable at this time to supply houses to meet the demands, and during his administration, Hastings has become and is now the Third City of the State, as shown by the government census recently taken.

Since elected Mayor, bids have been procured for Sheet Asphalt paving at $1.46 and $1.54 per square yard, which is a saving to the property owners, of over $100,000 when compared with the prices paid in 1911-12 for the same material, and during his administration $50,000 of intersection paving bonds were floated for 4 1/2 per cent.

Made a hard fight for the people's interests in the recent gas franchise campaign, which resulted in a reduction of gas rates from $2.00 to $1.45 net per thousand feet.

After the Gas Franchise Election, was sued by the promoter, who managed the gas franchise campaign, for $25,000 damages.

When Elected Mayor, appointed men to work under him who do not use intoxicating liquor and men who are free from political rings and corporation influence.

Science Notes

BY WILLIAM G. HAYNES.

TWO CURIOUS DISEASES RECENTLY NOTICED BY DOCTORS.

One of the two curious diseases that have recently come to the attention of the doctors is commonly known as "sleep palsy," but, because it is so often found in those who have been too festive on Saturday night, the hospital name is "Saturday night paralysis." It comes from pressure on that nerve (the musculospiral) which actuates the extensors of the elbow, wrist and fingers. The hard drinker, for whom, on Saturday night, money and leisure inopportunistly meet, will often fall forward on the table with his head resting on his arm, and so remain until the effects of drink are over, waking up to find his forearm and hand inert and nerveless, a condition persisting for days or weeks, even months and similar to that seen in lead palsy.

The other disease is known as "Monday morning paralysis." Fortunately, it is, as yet, confined to horses and does not come from over-drinking but from food too nutritious or too much food while resting in the stable on Sunday.

The technical name is Astasia (gr. a-stasis) and it is regarded seriously by horse breeders and ranchers for recovery is rare. In fact, the animal dies in two or three weeks or even as many days.

It seems to be a form of uremic poisoning. The whole system is clogged; the kidneys are inactive; there is breaking down of the blood vessels in the rump. The poor beast presents a pitiful spectacle; he sweats profusely and seems to have absolutely no control of his hind legs.

A Texan rancher recently lost a number of valuable draught horses this way. He tried taking them out for half mile walks, then resting, then walking again; but they all grew weaker and weaker and died.—Scientific American.

FROM NEBRASKA TO TENNESSEE.

gyman's Colored nurse girl. Of course a nurse girl implies children, to be nursed and cared for. The good doctor, D.D., not M.D., or D.D.S.; has two or three lovely children, who are very fond of "nursie"—strange, isn't it, since they are white and she is black? Nursie is fond of them.

"Nursie" likes to attend picture shows. The nearest one which admits Colored people is on Beale avenue, Memphis' famous Colored Broadway, if you please, several blocks away.

"Nursie" said the employer: "I don't care to go to Beale avenue every time I want to attend the movies."

The good doctor said: "Of course you don't. Well, just take the children and go to the 'X'," naming an exclusive (for white people only) picture theatre near by.

So Nursie takes the children and has entre to the exclusive movie theatre. She couldn't go alone, of course. She would be excluded.

And Also to the Circus.

A circus was in town. Not when I was there in February. Two such attractions—ahem—could hardly be there at the same time, without either one or the other attraction suffering. Modesty forbids my saying which attraction would have suffered in that event. The circus was there last year. Circuses have their exits and their entrances," too, "this side for white," "this side for Colored."

The reverend doctor took his wife and children—simply "to see the animals," of course. This is the way my good father, who was a Methodist class leader, but loved a circus, used to justify his attendance. He had to go to "take the children to see the animals," but somehow we all got to see the trapeze performers, bare-back riders, clowns and everything else there was to see. This good doctor, like my father, doubtless, took his children to "see the animals." "Nursie" went, too, to take care of the children. Did she enter by the way provided "for Colored people?" No! The good doctor simply said to the doorkeeper, "Servant," and Nursie went in along with the rest of the white folks and sat in the reserved seat section to see the show.
