JUSTICE NOT TEMPERED HERE

PROMINENT OMAHA PHYSICIAN PROVES TO BE BIG GRAFTER

Claim Is Made That Local Physician Commits Abortion Then Double-Crosses His Victims

ASSOCIATE FAMOUS IN MEDICAL CIRCLES

Young Woman Discovers She Is To Become Mother After Intimate Friendship With Farmer—Goes To Doctor Who Filches Her Of 5 Hundred Dollars, Then Demands More—Girl Gives Bum Check Made Good By Farmer Boy.

Another man gone wrong. This time it is a doctor, who until this time has borne a pretty good reputation for decency. A farmer had living near Stanton, Neb., also has a finger in the pie. The girl, whose is something of a Rose, is the third party, but one of the principals. Appearances are, and from all indications, is the truth, that this husky young farmer hit some of the high spots while his whiling his time away with this Rose, who is a fine little woman, at least she says so, who lives in the Bemis park district. Her residence is said to be on Myrtle avenue, where she lives at least temporarily with some relatives.

Nonplussed she looked for a way out of it. She already had spent the 500 simoleons given her by the young farmer. Consequently she was in a quandary. Finally she decided to write a check for the 150. She sits down and made a check on the Stanton bank, signing the young man's name on it. Under his name she signed her own name.

This check was made on a check of an Omaha Bank, the name of which was scratched out and the Stanton bank substituted. Now when it got to Stanton, the young man refused to pay it and was considering a charge of forgery. The bank sent the check back and this Omaha doctor was notified by his local bank that his account had been charged with the amount of the check. Instead of just forgetting the matter this doctor took the matter up with the girl. Later he told the young farmer he would have to settle it, and the young man, who is favorably known in his vicinity, sent another check to the doctor, which was good.

This is the kind of doctors, doing a "legitimate business" that you hear so much about. He is in a downtown building, where he offices with a physician whose name is seen in the newspapers nearly every day. This doctor used to be a railroad surgeon. He lost his job because his ambition got the best of him and he is alleged to have become intimate with the wife of the man who employed him. It can be imagined what this man did to the doctor after discovering what was going on.

Details of this story will all be told, with the names of all the principals except the farmer boy, who is (Continued on page 2)

Nominee of the late Democratic National Convention.

Americans All When Grim Reaper Comes

America is great largely because the masses can and do lay aside every vestige of political and religious prejudice when the Great Engineer calls one home, especially one, people have learned to know, to respect and to admire. It is characteristic of the Democratic National convention to immediately adjourn when they learned of the death of young Calvin Coolidge, Jr., a splendid example of the ideal, typical American boy. That body of men paid their respects, not as democrats but as American citizens. It has ever been thus. It is the spirit that make red blooded men proud to claim citizenship in this the grandest country in God's footstool.

MISS MONA COWELL APPOINTED AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR

The appointment of Miss Mona Cowell as special administration of the estate of her father the late Robert Cowell makes her the first person in Douglas county to have been named to that position. Miss Cowell is a brilliant woman and a well versed lawyer. One of the features of the will of Mr. Cowell was its brevity, another, the fact that she will provided that present officers of the Thomas Kilpatrick company are to have first chance at the stock held by Mr. Cowell in the company.

MCGINTY CASE MOST REVOLTING

The case of Mrs. Hazel Leis, who has brought suit for $75,000 against Frank McGinty, well known and wealthy real estate man, is attracting much attention. The grave charges of Mrs. Leis are of a serious nature and indicate that McGinty is anything but the gentleman he might be. Mrs. Leis is a highly respectable married woman, and has a girl 11 years old. McGinty also is a married man with children in the high school.

These two children will probably be as much surprised as anybody else to learn what their father is charged with. A family doctor has treated what appeared to be teeth marks on the woman's lower limbs. She alleges that the crime was committed in a bath room, where McGinty is charged to have committed an unnatural deed, an for which Mrs. Leis is bringing suit.

She also says that since the crime was committed she has been communicated with, and has been told that she might have the place rent free the rest of her life if she would desist in her intention of going through with the case. She has refused to do so, however.

This is the worst crime of its kind in the annals of brutal crimes in Omaha, according to her attorney, and will fill the newspapers of the city when it comes to trial with about the worst filth that they have printed in a long time. Mrs. Leis is a demure little woman of good family and refuses to discuss the details of crime she alleges McGinty committed.

PORTIA'S "MERCY" STUFF DEAD LETTER WITH JUDGE MCGEE

Hands Out Stiff Sentences To All Whether Or Not They Plead Guilty To The Charge

HIKES THE PRICE OF LIQUORS SOMEWHAT

Public Seems To Be Divided About 50-50 In Sentiment—Drys Claim McGee Drying Up Town Like A Sponge—Drinkers Still Get Theirs—Private Homes More Popular For Hootch Parties Now.

Nearly four hundred years ago the Bard of Avonshire in his "Merchant of Venice" had Portia say in her legal argument as counsel opposing Shylock: "The quality of mercy is not strained, it droppeth as gentle rain from Heaven, upon the place beneath; tis twice blessed: it blesseth him that gives and takes; 'tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes the throned monarch better than his crown: his sceptre shows the force of temporal power, the attributes to awe and majesty. Wherein dost this the dread and fear of kings, BUT MERCY IS ABOVE THIS SCEPTRED SWAY; it is enthroned in the hearts of kings, it is an attribute to God himself, and earthly power doth then show liketh God; WHEN MERCY SEASONS JUSTICE.

To these people he appears a bigot, a rule or ruin judge, a man devoid of heart or soul. They would make him out a radical collosas bent upon grinding down to the dust those whose offense in their own opinion is of very minor importance. Those who have already been convicted have harsher pronouncements still.

On the other hand there are thousands of good reliable citizens who feel that Judge McGee has not overdone it any but perhaps a few exceptional cases. They point out that the law is on the side of the judge. Furthmore they claim to believe that the sentences handed out, right or wrong, has been the means of putting most of the bootleggers out of business and in the end will make Omaha the Sahara of all Saharas in dry United States. These people claim that if such result is accomplished the ends of stern justice will have been accomplished.

Both sides have good argument according to their own particular views. It is not up to a newspaper or an individual to criticise the actions of any judge. It is only their province to give their views of what in their opinion is best on any question whether it be prohibition, politics or what not.

A great majority of people seems to have taken exception to the sending of a poor little mother of four children to the penitentiary for a year and a day and the added assessment of an eight hundred dollar fine. This was the case of an unfortunately misguided Italian woman, Mrs. Rosa Bollani by name. Unable to speak or understand English and but vaguely understanding her own admission of (Continued on page 3)

FINANCIAL STANDING OF NEBRASKA FAR ABOVE AVERAGE IS C. OF C. STATEMENT

State Is Out Of Debt, One Of But Three So Fortunate—Realty Value Of Cornhusker State $2,400 Per Capita, Largest In The Country—Omaha Gaining On Chicago As Live Stock Center, Passes Kansas City.

Nebraska in respect to the financial standing of the commonwealth is far above the average, according to a study made by the Bureau of Publicity of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

That is perhaps why students of economics and others who have visited the state within the past twelve months are impressed with the quick recovery of this state from such general business depression as has affected the country since the war. Nebraska has no state debts. It is one of but three states so fortunate the other two being Iowa and Wisconsin.

Nebraska's budget, $10,452,160, is not large, compared with that of other states, there being twenty-three states that have appropriated larger amounts for running expenses. The Nebraska budget figures $7.06 for each person living in the state.

Only twelve states have greater realty valuations than Nebraska. This state's realty is valued at $3,191,747, 876 or about $2,400 for each inhabitant. Of the twelve states which have greater realty value, none but Iowa approaches the value per capita of Nebraska. They rank in value per capita of their population as follows: Nebraska, $2,400; Iowa, $2,172; Michigan, $1,534; California, $1,500; Indiana, 1,483; New York, $1,458; Massachusetts, $1,222; Missouri, $1,169; Ohio, $1,126; New Jersey, $1,046; Pennsylvania, $960; and Illinois, $617.

In wealth per capita Nebraska stands seventh in the country with an average of $4,004. This is $1,086 higher than the average for the entire country. Nebraska's total wealth is estimated by the government to be $5,320,075,000 and it is fifth in value of live stock and eight in value of its farm implements and machinery although thirty-first in population.

Railroads and equipment of Nebraska place it in nineteenth place with a valuation of $380,413,000 and it stands sixteenth in the country in value of its motor vehicles which total $95,067,000.

In value of its street railways, shipping and water works, totaling $110,217,000, Nebraska holds thirtieth place.

In considering that the population of Nebraska is exceeded by those of thirty other states, Nebraska holds an important place, especially in the middle west as a contributor to the prosperity of the entire nation.

A proposal to establish an arterial highway system is to be submitted to the city council by a joint committee of the Omaha Auto Club and the Safety Traffic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. They propose that four streets surrounding the congested district and all boulevards be the first included in the system, requiring autos to stop before entering or crossing such streets.

Omaha is gaining on Chicago as a live stock market. Having attained second place with much larger receipts this year than at Kansas City, Omaha stock men have set Chicago as the mark to equal, and results are already being seen. For the first quarter of 1924 Chicago's receipts were 180 per cent greater than Omaha's, but in April Chicago received (Continued on Page 2)

KNOCKS AND BOOSTS BY THE OBSERVER

RATS GET DRUNK on alcohol according to expert testimony offered by chemist Little. He said the rodents acted just like a man with a snoot full. Lot of wives are wondering if when the rats were released from their cage they went to their nest and beat up on Mrs. Rat or just tumbled into bed and slept it off.

YOUTHS who have been looking for their fun with the girls east of Sixteenth street and are acquainted west of that dividing line had better get married as it is probable there 'aint goin' to be any fun no more in that section for a long time leastwise.

JOE LOCKRAY has been having trouble again with Bill Daly. The former now publishes the Midwest News and wants exclusive rights for a labor day edition while Bill wants to get his finger in the pie. Business men can settle it by advertising in the Mediator where they know they will get real circulation and results.

BASEBALL fans are getting more than their money's worth from the Burch Rods these days. The Buffaloes are goin' likhell and putting up a brand of base ball that should fill the park every day. Dang seldom do Griggs hired men drop a game and they fight for victory until the last man is out. Go out this afternoon.

ONE MINUTE MCGEE they call him now. Just before the Fourth Hizzonor sentenced 43 bootleggers in 43 minutes. Thus the new subrequit. He gave them 43 years and never batted an eye. Fast work we sez.

DAVIS AND BRYAN are the choice of the democrats and are a good pair to tie to. Neither are drastically dry or wet. About 50-50 along that line so the liuor question will not enter their campaign very seriously. Fair enough.

DAN PHILLIPS who seemed to take great pride in knocking over the boys (except his friends) got knocked over himself when he broke the speeding law. Judge Dineen who knows just what to do to the "Step on 'Er" boys soaked the deputy sheriff to the tune of fifteen days. Too bad Dan.

SAM RUBIN is back in the hotel business again. Has been in fact for several moons. Sam is now the main cheese at the Drexel Hotel which he recently took over. Rubin has always had a peculiar knack of drumming up business and making even or a loser pay. He has a system that is very interesting though he has no patent on it. Several other of the boys in the business know and work the same methods.

NO MEDIATOR last week as the Editor and his gang wanted to go fishin' an swimmin' 'er' everything on the Fourth of Julie. We jus' had to get out and celebrate with the boys and girls. Results pretty bad, the boss got cramps from eatin' some of Larry Dwyer's hot tamales, the sub ed got his from drinking water which went to the vacuum where the brain is supposed to was. The steno. swallowed a minnow while in swimming at Palmyro. Still everybody reported a good time.

K. K. K. OFFICIAL ORGAN MAKES ITS FIRST APPEARANCE ON THE OMAHA STREETS

Condemns To Hell All Catholics And Jews—Rat Editor Of This Un-American Organ Out For Few Omaha Nickels—Fights Religion Under False Banner—Localizes Klan News—No Room For Outfit Here.

The K. K. K. has invaded Omaha, through its scavenger sheet, the Klan Kourier. Nobody appears to stand sponsor for it, and everything concerning the origin of the paper is kept secret. A man well dressed and an intelligent looking fellow stood on the corner last week and passed them out at five cents a pass. Apparently he did well, because about everybody that passed his way made their contribution. It was new to Omaha people, and they wanted to see anything new. Many of them, who have heard of some of the questionable doings of the Ku Klux Klan were anxious to know something about them. When they had read the paper thoroughly they had got about all the information they wanted.

This mysterious organization has done so much in the dark, its members always covered up from head to foot, that there was considerable inquisitiveness regarding their real objects. They have even attempted to break into politics and apparently cut some figure at the democratic national convention which has just adjourned in New York.

Newspaper reports tell the people of meetings in surrounding cities, led by gowned and hooded leaders, and they naturally were a little curious about the matter. It appears that no member of this crowd has thus far had the temerity to admit it. In some places in southern states it has been known only as a law defying and violating bunch of men, who took the law in their own hands when they saw something they did not like.

In fact this business became so serious that an armed force of vigilantes was often forced to outdo these K. K. K. hoodlums. The institution at this time is very much in disgrace. The edition of the Klan Kourier sold on Omaha streets contends in each story that the organization is a great institution, and comes to fill a great void in society.

As a matter of truth, it appears very strongly that its biggest business is to fight Catholicism. The editor of The Mediator is not a Catholic, but in common with most liberty loving American citizens, believes the Catholic church, the same as the Methodist or any other protestant organization, is a great power for the uplift and betterment of humanity.

Under the cloak of news, the Kourier contains a long story about Omaha, and particularly about police affairs, then winds up with a defense of the K. K. K. This particular story has to do with the Red Light district and particularly mentions Tom Dennison. It is not charged that Tom belongs to the K. K. K. but leaves nothing else unsaid. It also takes a slam at Sergeant Crawford and Commissioner Dunn, and generally gives Omaha a black eye. The paper, according to its own statement, is printed in St. Louis and gives the name of Gail F. Carter as being the publisher. It also says it will appear every week from now on until --- well as long as anybody buys it. There is no doubt about its being sold as long as decent people will stand for it.

This paper even attempts to tie itself up with Free Masonry, about which the writer knows very little, except that it is a great and clean organization of the best men in the country. (Continued on page 2)

RIDDING OUT BRYAN

Dudley Field Malone may be thanked by the democrats, and everybody else, for that matter for having risen up at a very proper time, and in a gentlemanly, very orderly manner yet forcefully, proceed to rid the party of that once powerful man, William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Malone did it so nicely, in his letter, that there can be no unbrage nor can there be any come back. Bryan, honored and made wealthy, by the laudits of his party, had finally resolved himself into an actual menace to it, and was threatening it farther when Mr. Malone sent him that letter. It has always been said that Bryan had a come back, but there is every reason to believe that he will stay put this time. He will be heard from in various ways from time to time, but he is no longer a dangerous man, with his demagoguery and his wrecking work.

Mr. Malone told him as politely as the occasion would permit that he was not wanted in the democratic convention and invited him to make himself scarce around Madison Square. This was not only an invitation to leave the convention, but also to leave the party.

This comes as a result of what every voter in the country has always felt that Bryan stood for nothing and represented nobody except Bryan. He has been an accident from the time he was elected to congress in 1892. He was thrice selected to carry the democratic banner and as many times defeated utterly. He has always bobbed up with a "new issue." His free silver idea was as fallacious as is his fickle resourceful mind and brain. He always picked up something new which was as quickly exploded.

Woodrow Wilson entrusted him to the care of the greatest office within his gift. As secretary of state Mr. Bryan was an absolute failure. The people can now see what he would have been as president. Mr. Malone has rendered the people of the country a great favor by speaking up at a psychological moment.

The selection of Governor Charles Bryan as the vice presidential candidate by the convention will hardly change matters much. The governor is considered by Nebraska people to be head and shoulders above his brother, and to have something substantial in him. He has made Nebraska an excellent governor, and will doubtless be just as big a man on the national ticket.

It is very probable that W. J. Bryan will stump the country for the ticket now, although he is more of a liability than an asset to the party. One thing is sure, and that is Nebraska is rid of him for all time, at least in the political atmosphere. Meanwhile that will be some relief.

PROMINENT OMAHA PHYSICIAN PROVES TO BE BIG GRAFTER

The paper takes a shot at those democrats who attempted to condemn in plain words the K. K. K. in the national platform. It says "the attempt to outlaw the great Protestant Brotherhood failed on the convention floor, after three days of wildest wrangling."

In general, this paper attempts to show how everybody that does not belong to or is not in sympathy with this K. K. K. concern is not a fit person to be called citizen and a lot of other things. It does not, however, mention Bob Samardick, whom it is apparent, the Kourier editor knows very slightly if at all. Speaking generally, this paper says it is time for the good citizen to make a move. The paper insists that Omaha is a hot bed of bootleggers, prostitution and gambling, which will come as news to most people. The writer is apparently thoroughly cognizant of conditions, and describes minutely places he has visited in the Red Light district. Generally speaking he makes a hit with his own people.

but 80 per cent more than were reported at the Omaha yards. Omaha during the first quarter received 46,570 carloads of stock, or a train, it these were hooked together, that would be 441 miles long.
Omaha is to have a new Federal Bank building, costing $550,000. At least that sum has been appropriated in a bill now in Congress. The building will be located at 17th and Dodge southwest corner. This lot was secured for the purpose about a year ago.

About 2,000 carloads, each containing 450 standard cases filled with Nebraska eggs, are shipped out of the state annually, according to the latest reports from the department of poultry husbandry. The annual egg production is valued at more than $22,000,000.

Long Distance Tax Removed July 3

Elimination of Tax Affects Messages Costing Fifteen Cents or More.

As a result of the new tax law passed by Congress and signed by the President on June 2, the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued on and after July 3.

All long distance calls costing fifteen cents or more will be affected by the elimination of this tax. The tax has been five cents on calls costing fifteen to fifty cents, inclusive. On each long distance telephone message costing more than fifty cents, the tax has been ten cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal government.

Many petitions and resolutions from the Middle West asking that this tax be removed were received by senators and representatives during the last session of Congress. Business men contended that this tax was a burden on producers and consumers, and that it was a relic of war times.

About 1,700,000 long distance calls are made in the United States each day. Over 15,000,000 telephones in the nation are all interconnected, and enable persons in more than 70,000 cities, towns and communities in United States, Canada and Cuba to converse with each other any hour of the day or night. This has led to a steadily increasing use of the long distance service for social and business purposes.

Removal of the federal tax on long distance telephone calls does not mean that the Telephone Company will not continue to pay its proportion of taxes. The federal message tax was assessed against the telephone user. The Telephone Company will continue to pay its regular federal, state and other taxes.

WOMAN RAIDED BEATS OUT SAMARDICK AND SQUAD

It is not often that Bob Samardick gets licked, but it took a woman to put it over on him this week. Bob's squad, headed by Anderson, recently discharged from the police department, went to Grady's hotel, at 924 North Sixteenth street to do business. They marched in and took possession of the place and began to search the place for liquor.

After spending two hours at their fruitless task they were forced to leave without getting any liquor, although they felt sure it was there. While the search was being made Mrs. Grady, with three or four bottles of booze under her arm, slipped right past the officers and out the front door, taking all the stock with her so it authoritatively said.

It was a neat bit of work and proved to be a good joke on Bob, who does not miss many of them.

Grady's place has long been a wet place. He keeps a stock of old shoes in boxes in his show window. In one of the boxes he used to keep his liquor stock but was caught at it. Mrs. Grady, however, has solved the secrecy of hidden sweets; so has Samardick.

Lamberton, N. Y.—The lives of eight persons were saved by a collie dog when the farmhouse of Leslie S. Morrison burned to the ground. The dog sacrificed its own life. Morrison was awakened by the dog's tugging at the bed clothes, to find the house in flames. With the help of his wife and his cousin, James Morrison, he carried five children, ranging in ages from three to nine, to safety. The body of the dog was found buried in the debris.

Good Citizens Should Help The Omaha Bee Milk Fund Now

Many worthy charities are carried on by the various daily newspapers at different times of the year. They are all worth while and deserve the support of every citizen who is in position to help. Of all the splendid efforts along these lines none should appeal quite so much to the heart and purse as the Baby Milk Fund under the direction of the Omaha Bee. Saving the life of a baby through a small contribution to the fund should have an especial appeal to every good citizen.

POPE BLESSES OMAHANS

News from Rome that special blessings had been conferred on Thomas Redmond, general manager of the Burgess-Nash Company, and Thomas Quinlan, of the Brandeis Stones, by the Pope will come with much interest to Omaha people. Several other Omahans were among those favored. Redmond and Quinlan are both well and favorably known in Omaha and have been pillars in the Catholic church for many years.

WHEAT GROWERS TO GET FAIR PRICES THIS YEAR

Nebraska and the wheat growing states have a bright prospect before them, statistics received by the Bureau of Publicity from the U. S. Department of Commerce, indicate.

Although the sharp slump in prices in the third quarter of 1923 from a weekly average of $1.27 a bushel to $1.04 for No. 2 red winter wheat, brought some financial depression to agriculture, the first quarter of 1924 witnessed a rise to a weekly average of $1.11, and in the second quarter just closed is holding its own at $1.09 a bushel weekly average. Economists of the government bureau forecast that with better export trade in prospect with a smaller crop for the country, good prices will prevail this year. Nebraska is one of four states which shows an increase in wheat production this year over 1923 in face of a smaller crop for the country.

guilt this mother through sentence to the penitentiary has been cut off from her family with the babies to perchance drift for themselves. But it is law, legally dealt out without any of the famous Portia's ingredient mixed with it. Sensing separation from her babes, her husband in jail, death seemed to be her only out.

With more courage than most men possess and with all hope gone, this daughter of sunny Italy, with a scream that must still ring in many ears, rushed to an open window and attempted to jump to the cold stone pavement below to a death that would end it all. That she failed was no fault of her own.

Judge McGee set several precedents, among them the jailing of many first offenders. In some cases it is claimed the offenders had just started and had gone into the business as first aid to a small income to help them temporarily in getting on their feet. It seemed to them so easy. Everybody wanted to buy, it appeared that nine out of ten of the population wanted a drink and were willing to pay for it. Why shouldn't they cheat just a little until they got even, they asked themselves. Now they know why they shouldn't.

Scores of those convicted had their own circle of friends but no one was so universally popular as Johnny Hausener, who roomed on North Twentieth street where it is said he sold a drink to a stool pigeon. He was given eighteen months for the act. Many thought it was out of all proportion to the offense but the judge thought otherwise and he is the one that represents the law and administers it.

Many cases have been tried this week and scores of others are to follow with probably about the same general results. This reminds us of a rather clever but ridiculous feature story printed in one of the Omaha daily papers last Sunday. The moral they pointed out was that so far as liquor is concerned, "There aint no more." The moral was all right but should have been properly cartooned and put over in the funny section where it belonged.

The Leggars have tightened up it is true and are watching their Ps and Qs mighty close. Quite a few stills have been cooled for the time being but if one imagines that a man or woman knowing the ropes couldn't buy enough hooch or alki to float a battleship, today or any other day they are badly mistaken. The price has been hiked in some instances but there are still hundreds of places where the properly identified thirsty ones can get their favorite brand for two bits. Regardless of price there will be plenty of it here while the judge is in town and plenty of it left after he will have finally returned to Minneapolis.

FAMOUS FIRE CHIEF RETIRES ON PENSION

Omaha has lost a famous fire chief in the retirement of Charles A. Salter who for more than fifty years has been on the department. He was a most unusual man in more than one respect. Through his genius as a fire fighter and later as the general director of the department the retired chief has been the means of saving millions of dollars in property and the lives of scores of men. He will never be forgotten by Omaha citizens. He had the rare knack of commanding and having his orders instantly obeyed without becoming offensive to his men. The city will be fortunate indeed to have another such man at the head of the fire department.

BACHELOR'S CHANCES GROW BETTER SCHOOL CENSUS SHOW

Young men and hard boiled bachelors are in luck if they look at it that way. 55 per cent of the total of persons of school age are girls. This makes the pickin's a little bit easier with a five per cent chance of drawing a prize winner. Good gamblers are always satisfied with a five per cent margin.

NIGHT FLYING

With planes flying on schedule time the night air mail schedule was inaugurated July 1. Planes arriving in Omaha, the midnight station of the coast to coast air mail route, carried 23,500 letters on the first trip. Forty pilots compose the air staff of the new service.

DOROTHY NOW AT LIBERTY TO HOOK UP WITH MOVIES

Dorothy Miller who married some bum because he claimed to be a brother of a movie actor and then forged a bunch of checks to make life measure up to a motion picture idea of how things are done, was paroled last week. Three months in jail brought Dorothy to her senses. While languishing in the hoosegow she became fat if not sassy.

Nebraska Wheat Feeds 9,000,000 People

Nebraska's great crop of ripened wheat, which in the summer months turns our state into waving fields of gold, awaits only the harvest and miller's hopper to furnish food for 9,000,000 people.

Our state's rich soil and abundant rainfall, assisted by the enterprising spirit and modern methods of the Nebraska farmer, have made this commonwealth third in the yield of wheat per acre and fourth in annual production.

In every way, Nebraska is moving forward and more and more local and long distance telephone service will be required constantly. At the present rate of Nebraska's growth, we must spend about three-fourths of a million dollars annually for new telephone property in this state.

Inasmuch as immense sums of money are required to provide for the growing demand for telephone service, Bell System stock and bonds must be sold constantly. About half a million people in all walks of life already have a financial interest in the business. We shall be pleased to have you join this vast army of telephone investors. Full information about Bell stock or bonds can be obtained from any telephone employee, or call our Manager.

As Nebraska prospers, the telephone is successful. Therefore, we constantly strive to provide reliable telephone service at the lowest possible charges consistent with reasonable wages to employees and a fair return on the money invested in the business.

"Flaming Barriers" Scenes Filmed On Historic Location

Romantic Story Screened on Banks of Stanislaus River in California.

Filmed in Sonora, Cal., one of the oldest and most historic of the California gold towns, George Melford's Paramount production "Flaming Barriers," which comes to the Strand Theatre next Sunday has for its background a country in which much of the western state's romantic story was developed.

When the Foreign Miners Tax Law of 1850, which forced foreigners to pay thirty dollars a month for the right of mining in California, was passed, the principal opposition to it was manifested by Mexicans located in and around Sonora.

Several of the scenes for "Flaming Barriers" were filmed on the banks of the Stanislaus river where, some seventy years ago, one hundred miners banded together to protect the rights of several Chinamen who had been driven off their claim by three gaunt, long-haired men from Arkansas.

"Flaming Barriers" retains a strong flavor of the old days of the west, although it is a modern story with a gripping, fast moving plot. The little town of Burbridge, where most of the action takes place, is a battle ground on which the things of yesterday and things of today struggle for the mastery. The featured players who appear in this picture are Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers.

Written for the screen by Byron Morgan, "Flaming Barriers" is packed with thrills. It is the story of an inventor, Patrick Malone, who mortgages his factory to get money to carry on his experiments on a fast motor fire-truck which he is perfecting. He and his daughter, Jerry Malone, are the only ones in Burbridge who believe in the fire-truck, with one exception—Joseph Pickens, the richest and the meanest man in the community. Pickens holds the notes which are due against the factory. By their aid he hopes to get possession of the factory, the fire truck and Jerry herself. Under the pretext of helping Malone, he sends to the city for an efficiency expert to come down and superintend the factory. Sam Barton, rich and idle, is literally driven into the country by his father, who hopes that some work will make a man of him.

Pickens explains to Burton what is wanted, but unfortunately for the plan, Barton spoils everything by falling in love with Jerry and bends all his energies towards introducing the fire-truck to the state fire chiefs. Pickens fights him at every turn and the most thrilling commercial struggle ensues which has been seen in motion pictures for a long time. In the course of the action, the heroine flies across a burning forest in an aeroplane and drives the fire-truck through the forest with burning trees crashing behind her.

ARE YOU THE 1 IN 100,000?

Among the one hundred and ten million persons in the United States there are only eleven hundred perfect "movie faces," according to charts recently completed by cameramen of the Paramount West Coast Studios.

"One person in every one hundred thousand has features so regular that a motion picture camera can be trained on them from any angle without distortions resulting," says Faxton Dean, cameraman for Joseph Henabery, who has just finished "The Guilty One," featuring Agnes Ayres.

"Motion picture stars, of course, have greater photographic values per capita than any other class of people. This virtue accounts for their pre-eminence in the silent drama almost as much as their dramatic skill."

In making "The Guilty One" Dean's records show that Agnes Ayres was filmed from 83 different angles. This, he says, constitutes a test of unusual severity. Other famous luminaries whose facial compositions border perfection include: Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri, Jacqueline Logan, Betty Compson, Bebe Daniels and Leatrice Joy.

"The Guilty One," adapted from the popular stage play by that name, will open at the Strand Theatre on Thursday, July 17 for a three day run. There's a great cast playing in support of the principal players.

UNCLE SAM GOING MONEY UNDER JUDGE MCGEE REGIME

A great many people are paying 1 thousand dollars rather than gaze upon the classic features of Judge McGee who has been treating the boys rather rough since coming to the village. Last Monday alone nine alleged cheaters forfeited their bonds rather than take a chance with the law. That may be the end of their troubles and again it may not.

CHARLES VAN DUSEN A SPLENDID CHOICE AS CHIEF OF POLICE

Just about every one in Omaha welcomed the news that Commissioner Dunn with the approval of the council has appointed Charley Van Dusen as chief of police to succeed Chief Dillon who is to retire after a long and faithful public service. Van Dusen as head of the detective department has become one of the most widely known police officials in America. Under his personal supervision hundreds of prominent crooks have been apprehended and are now behind the bars.

Charley is strict but tolerant. He has the respect of every man on the department and the confidence of the business men in the city. We congratulate Van Dusen on his promotion and Mr. Dunn in so wisely making the selection. However most of our congratulations are left for our citizens who are assured of a most competent man at the head of the police department.

Colleen Moore Was Big Hit In Amateurs

Colleen Moore, star of "The Perfect Flapper," which opens at the Rialto Theatre on Saturday July 12, for a week's engagement was once both playwright and performer in the dual roles of hero and villain. The dainty First National star also promoted the exploitation schemes for a juvenile stock company she formed at Tampa, Fla., back in the days when she was going to school there at the Convent of the Holy Name.

"There was a stock company playing at a downtown theatre," says Miss Moore, in telling of her girlhood bid for stage honors, "and we Hyde Park girls decided we would have one, too. So we rigged up an old piano box as a stage and utilized another box for a dressing room."

"Because I was so fond of dramatics they made me write all of our plays. I got the plots from the movies and all of them were wild and woolly westerns, even if one was called "The Princess." Every time we needed a new play for our repertoire, I went to a picture show and wrote it in a jiffy.

"We charged 1 cent admission to our shows and we had barrels of fun, for all the neighbors came. An uncle had given me an old full-dress coat and I wore this," laughed Colleen, "whenever I portrayed the villain, using a little black mustache to give the proper air of villainy. The funny part was that as the hero I wore western trousers, cowboy type, you know, and my only change in costume for the 'heavy' part was to slip on the dress coat. The chaps and the swallow-tail made a rare and ludicrous combination, I can tell you. They never failed to get a laugh."

"The Perfect Flapper," which was directed by John Frances Dillon, is a pretentious production with a remarkable cast including Sydney Chaplin, Frank Mayo, Phyllis Haver, Lydia Knott, Charles Wellesley and others.

LOYAL COHN JOINS RANKS OF THE ORDER OF BENEDICTS

Loyal Cohn, bachelor—not on your life, not no more as Noah Webster would say. Loyal has taken unto himself a wife and both bride and groom are to be congratulated. Mr. Cohn's marriage to Miss Lorene Rosenstock further cements close relationships between two of Omaha's very prominent families. Mrs. Cohn is the daughter of Hesse Rosenstock a pioneer wholesale tobacco dealer. The family has long been among the social leaders in Jewish society. Loyal's mother is a daughter of the founder of the Brandeis store, J. L. Brandeis and a sister of Emil, Hugo and Arthur Brandeis now all deceased.

Mr. Cohn and his bride after a honeymoon in the west will return to Omaha making their home at the Loyal hotel which is now under the personal supervision of Loyal.

Now It Is Grandpa Fenton Down At The Penitentiary

Now it is Grandpa Fenton and you would never think it to look at him. The popular warden came into the title last Monday when a son was born to his daughter Mrs. Donald Gallagher now making her home in Casper, Wyoming. Her husband the happy father is a former state legislator from Holt county. He is practicing law in the Wyoming city and getting his full share of the legal business in the oil city of the west. The child was born in the warden's apartment of the state penitentiary where the young mother spent so many years.

During the long years she lived with her dad at the place she made herself the idol of the thousands of prisoners who were inmates of the institutions. Never in the ten or twelve years she made herself "at home" with the prisoners, some of them lifers, did a single man ever in the slightest way attempt to cast so much as a slighting remark at her. She was the bright light that shone for thousands of poor unfortunates who looked upon her presence as one does the first rays of Spring sunshine.

AUBURN GOES AFTER THE BIG TIME STUFF

Nothing a bit slow about Auburn, Nebraska or its commercial club. When it looked like the democrats would be unable to get anywhere in New York, Auburn was willing to come to the rescue and invited the donkey gang to finish their deliberations in that dandy little Nebraska city. Not only that they guaranteed plenty to eat and ??? If state convention heads are wise they will make sure of what they mean by "and" and if they find out it is what they think it is, see to it that Auburn is selected for the next meeting place.

Telephone Users Relieved of Tax on Long Distance Calls

On and after July 3 the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued as a result of the new tax law passed by Congress and signed by the President on June 2.

The elimination of this tax affects all long distance calls of 15 cents or more. On calls for which the charges are from 15 to 50 cents, inclusive, the tax has been 5 cents and on each message for which the charges are more than 50 cents, the tax has been 10 cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal Government.

This reduction in the cost to users of long distance service increases its usefulness for business and social purposes. Ask our Business Office for assistance in further adapting long distance service to your requirements.
