Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters

Musterole, made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, will do all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—without the blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from bronchitis, sore throat, coughs, colds, croup, neuralgia, headache, congestion, rheumatism, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, and all aches and pains. It may prevent pneumonia. All drug-gists—35c and 65c jars and tubes—hospital size $3.

ELMO BALL CLUB MEETS ITS WATERLOO AT ELKHORN

Those cocky Elmo base ball players who have won all but two of eleven ball games this year journeyed over to Elkhorn last Sunday where the "Yokals" put the skids under them for a seven to two victory.

They didn't seem to mind it much, in fact it seemed only to make them the more determined to fight the harder in their future games. At one stage of the game the Elmo bunch had three men on bases with none out but the sun or something got in their eyes as the small town basemen caught them all napping. One of the proprietors of the Elmo pool hall took over a bushel basket of twenty dollar bills to back up his boys; he still had his shoes left when he returned to town.

STERLING TO MAKE CAMPAIGN OUT IN THE STATE

George Sterling, Omaha's candidate for governor on the republican ticket, will soon leave on an extended trip through the state in the interest of his candidacy. George will tour the state in Ted Danielson's big car and while out will make it a point to impress the voters with the fact that he is the only republican candidate for governor who has come out in the open with his platform. Sterling should make many friends and a large number of votes on the trip.

NEW METHOD IN RUNNING DRUG STORE A SUCCESS

The scores of regular customers as well as the "drop in" trade that patronize the Castle Pharmacy at 622 South Sixteenth are unusually well pleased with the modern methods used by its proprietor, Joe Miller. "I never let a day go by without offering some very special inducement to my trade," said the proprietor in answer to a question about how he had built up such a splendid trade in such a short time. "Give the people what they want at the least possible price, plus prompt service and an inviting, sanitary place and most any one is bound to succeed," he added. Mr. Miller threw the keys away when he took over the place a year ago.

Snails in London Restaurants.

English officers who served in France during the war acquired in many cases a taste for frogs' legs and snails, hitherto unknown to London menus. When they returned home they demanded the same tidbits in London and now both frogs' legs and snails are conveyed daily from France to London by airplane. Some of the London restaurants are doing an enormous business in serving these two articles of food.

FRANK CHANCE THINKS HIGHLY OF "JIGGER" STATZ AS BALL PLAYER

ARNOLD STATZ

The former peerless leader of the Chicago Cubs, Frank L. Chance, still retains much of his affection for the old team. While this year's Cubs were engaged in playing exhibitions in Los Angeles, Chance motored over from his home in Glendora, 40 miles away, to watch them.

Likes Ray Grimes.

Chance noted particularly the work of Ray Grimes at first base, for that's where "Husk" used to play himself. He admires the way the former Eastern leaguer larrups the ball.

Chance thinks that Killefer got the best all-round player the Coast league has had in years in "Jigger" Statz. The ex-Cub boss says there isn't a doubt that Statz will make good. "He may be a little slow in starting and in getting used to playing regularly," says Chance, "but he will surprise the fans back East with his ability. He can go as far in the outfield for drives as anybody I've ever seen," Chance is quoted as saying.

"He plays smart baseball and is a demon on the bases. I don't think there is any question about him being able to hit big league pitching, for he has a wonderful eye at the plate and hits a ball harder than his physical makeup would indicate."

Statz is not strong, but he plants a full swing to his hits and is just as likely to make an extra base blow as he is to beat out a bunt, and he stands a better chance than any other member of the team of taking an additional base because of his remarkable speed and judgment in running the bases.

Opposing pitchers are not fooling Statz much. He forces them to get the ball over some corner of the plate before he offers at them, and on several occasions had the umpires call strikes on balls that were not over. He is the upsetting sort of athlete managers like to have on their teams. He keeps the entire infield on its toes because it does not know when he is going to drop a bunt down the third base line, drag one down first or push the ball slowly past the pitcher. Pitchers have fanned him, but not often with men on the bases.

Reason for Golf

"Why," asks our pessimistic friend, "do ball players seem more ambitious to become good golfers than better ball players?"

"For the same reason," suggests a sales manager friend, "that salesman who play golf can show more enthusiasm talking about putts and drives and mashies and nibbles than in extolling their own merchandise."

Diamond Squibs

The Bloomington club purchased Pitcher Guy Morrison from Evansville club.

The Vernon club has given Pitcher Frank Sheelback his unconditional release.

The Newark club turned Outfielder Bob Kinsella back to the New York Nationals.

The Hartford club purchased Outfielder Emmons Bowen from the San Antonio Texas league club.

The Denver club has landed a new first basemen in Joe Cartwright, from the Salt Lake club of the Coast league.

Brantford released Pitcher Leo Johnson. Bay City took him on and his first out was a neat victory over Hamilton.

George Army, catcher recently released by the Waterbury club, has joined the Ottawa club of the Eastern Canada league.

Tommy Ring, an infelder formerly with the Boston Red Sox and the Toronto Internationals, has joined the Fitchburg team.

The Detroit club has released Pitcher Walter Stewart, a southpaw recruit, to the Syracuse club of the International league.

Pitcher John Scott, turned adrift by the Cincinnati Reds, will go to his home in North Carolina and rest in an effort to get his arm in shape.

Manager John Hummel of Springfield released Outfielder George Clark and Pitcher Vincent Haley in order to get down to the player limit.

Tris Speaker is not so worried about his team as are some of his critics. He has a bunch of veterans who will show better as the season advances, says Tris.

Manager Dick Hoblitzel of Charlotte announces that he means to carry six pitchers—Mutt Wilson, Rube Wilson, Wright, Walters, Brown and Masters.

The Detroit club cut down its roster by returning Outfielder Bob Fothergill to the Rochester Internationals. He goes as part payment for Maurice Archdeacon, who is to report to Detroit next spring.

Stick to Own Style

British Women's Golf union has rejected the proposal to change the manner of holding its championships and follow somewhat in the plans chosen by the Women's Metropolitan Golf association. Miss Cecil Leitch was one of the players who favored adopting the American method.

GOLF GAINING FAVOR AMONG SOUTHERNERS

Northern Tourists Taught Dixie to Love Outdoor Game.

Yankees Do Not Have Monopoly of Courses as They Did in Previous Years—Bobby Jones Won Amateur Championship.

While the golf news of Southern courses during the winter dealt in the main with the activities of Northern players, the Yankees did not have the monopoly of the courses as they have in previous years, for interest in the game is growing at a tremendous rate and, with the building of many new courses, golf is on the way to become an all-year institution. Most of the big resort courses are closed when the season ends, but the local clubs that are everywhere springing up afford ample opportunity for the Southerner to wield his driver and mashie regularly in the cooler times of the long, warm summer days.

That the South has not produced more players who are national figures in the game is laid in part to the fact that the caddie class, from which a great number of the North's outstanding players have come, does not exist to any large extent. Most of the bag toting is done by colored boys, and there are thus not as many Caucasian youngsters interested in the game as in the North. The development of the municipal course idea, which has found much favor with the Southerners and has resulted in one of the finest courses in the country at Brackenridge park, San Antonio, will go far to provide the youngsters with opportunity to get on a course in other than a caddying capacity.

Although the South is just starting to add its numbers to the rank and file of the golfing army, it has produced several figures who now stand among the finest players of the land. Bobby Jones, an Atlanta product, has taken the Southern amateur championship several times, and was a member of the American team that went to Hoylake last year. Miss Alexa Sterling, who for three years stood supreme in the American women's championships, is also an Atlanta player, although she has transferred her allegiance to New York. Mrs. David Gaut of Memphis is another nationally known Southern figure in the game.

"Don't Doubt Your Wife" Is Spectacular Drama.

Commencing next Sunday the Empress theatre will show for four days the feature production, "Don't Doubt Your Wife." This is the first of a series of features being made by Leah Baird Productions and starring Miss Baird, to be released by Associated Exhibitors, Inc.

The story, which was written by Leah Baird, deals with several angles of domestic life and is replete with spectacular production scenes and several melodramatic twists of the story serve to keep the action going at a rapid pace throughout.

As usual, Miss Baird appears in several artistic costumes that will delight the feminine eye. The automobile dash through a blinding rain and lightning storm, the raid by revenue officers upon a notorious roadhouse, the return home after midnight of the wife, her clothes torn or missing, the subsequent discovery by her husband, the scenes in the big cabaret restaurant and the following gay party—all create a succession of thrills and interest that is found in few motion pictures of today.

UNUSUAL NEWS NOTES ON THE WORKINGS OF PROHIBITION

Since a representative of the Anheuser-Busch Co. raised such a hellarow about booze on board American ships, Lasker, head of the shipping board, has decreed that it is all right to peddle the stuff on American waters but not on American land. Good stuff for the man that has the price of a ticket to Europe.

Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts has openly accused the officers of the Anti-Saloon League of bribing our Washington solons. The League officials are putting up unlimited dough to elect Volstead and others without giving an accounting. This is strictly against the law but the Antis don't mind that when a point is to be gained.

Prohibition has failed in the United States, but it is not responsible for the alarming increase in the use of narcotics, Earnest Guy, a Frenchman who has been in this country for two years studying prohibition, recently declared. The United States is certain to return to the use of light wines and beer, he added. He also stated that there was more whiskey consumed now than before prohibition became effective.

F. D. Wead, one of the tall weeds that stand out boldly in the prohibition garden planted by the committee of 5,000 was re-elected president of that organization. "Bill" Kervan, a former servant of Dean Ringer, was elected secretary. Elmer Thomas as well as a dozen others were present. The present membership was estimated at almost fifty.

BILLIARD SKILL OF JAKE SCHAEFER NOT INHERITED FROM HIS FATHER

Does young Jake Schaefer's skill come by inheritance from his famous father? Could his father have transmitted to him that ability which has made young Jake the world's 18.2 bulklime billiard champion? These are questions that are being asked by billiard fans everywhere. In the majority of instances, followers of the game are convinced that the answer to both questions is "yes."

Science, however, in the person of Professor Frederick Starr, anthropologist of the University of Chicago, says "No." Schaefer's father was a world's champion until 1908. His father died before young Jake took up billiards seriously, so that the late "wizard" could not have given young Jake much personal instruction in the art of nursing, shot-making and other fine points of the game.

Characteristics of Father.
Maybe it is imagination or perhaps it is something else, but old billiard fans profess to see revealed in the features of young Jake the characteristics of his father. Professor Starr cannot see them. He asserts that everyone who is an authority on evolution will agree in his statement that the son could inherit no accumulation of billiard skill from his father.

"It is quite possible, however," Professor Starr said, "for the father to transmit to the son those general qualities which would make a good billiard player, and these inherited qualities could be developed so that the son also would be a skilled player. Evidently that is what happened in this case.

"A keen eye, steady hand, a mind quick to take in a situation and courage are some of the things that could be transmitted to the son. That, of course, is quite different from saying that billiard experience and skill, as such, could be inherited from the father. The son might or might not be a billiard player, according to the development of his qualities. The fact that young Jake grew up in an environment where he would see a great interest taken in billiards would tend to influence him to take up the game and encourage him to develop his skill."

Man of Intelligence.
There is no "billiard face" or expression any more than there is an expression peculiar to any other occupation or profession, according to Professor Starr. Shown a picture of Jake Schaefer's father, Professor Starr said: "It would be impossible to tell from this picture that the man was a billiard player. The picture shows a man wide awake, keen and intelligent. If I were given a group of pictures and told that certain of the group were those of billiard players, I could, with my attention thus directed, pick out four or five pictures which would include those of the billiard players. But without such a hint it would be impossible to tell an occupation."

"Young Jake evidently is a man who has himself under control. He looks intelligent. But, as in the case of the father, there is nothing that would indicate that he was a billiard player. There are no distinguishing marks. From the picture one can see that he might be a billiard player or anything else that requires control and intelligence."

Keep on Going

One of the unwritten laws of play is to run head down when going to first base.
There is only one play for the base runner to make and that is to reach the bag.
He should not watch the ball, should do nothing but run as fast as possible.

OUTRAGEOUS PRICES FOR CRACK PLAYERS

Ban Johnson Is Gloomy Over Outlook for Future.

President of American League Says Two Years of Unprecedented Prosperity Has Given Baseball Owners False Ideas.

Discretion is needed in baseball, President Ban Johnson of the American league says so. He declares the magnates in the majors and minors are not using it and as a consequence may have to suffer in the future. Unless they come out of their delirium and stop paying and demanding outrageous prices for players, they are likely to have a sad awakening as early as next season.
Prosperity in the last two years has carried them off their feet and they are forgetting what the word prudence means, writes Oscar Reichow in the Chicago News. If they have any they are not using it, according to Johnson who is not bubbling over with optimism over the outlook.
"We are and have been traveling along on a fictitious prosperity for the last two or three years" said President Johnson "and the sooner we step down the better it will be for the game and everybody concerned. Next season may not be so good for the owners. They have had two wonderfully prosperous years and have allowed that fact to affect their judgment. There is likely to be a sudden slump in baseball. Indications are that the industries will reopen full blast next year. If they do the men who attended the games this summer will be at work and will have no time for the game. If the club owners, majors and minors, are wise, they will prepare for conditions of that character.

"Major league club owners unconsciously are doing baseball an almost irreparable injury by inflating the prices on players as they have this year. They are slowly wrecking the minor organizations, the bodies from which their stars must come. They do not realize it now, but they will later. Players for whom exorbitant prices are paid get a distorted idea of their ability and demand more salary than they are worth. If they do not stick they are sent back to the minors, where they insist on a salary that the small magnate cannot pay. This condition comes not from only one player but hundreds of them, with the result the salary lists of the minor league clubs are so high they cannot operate successfully."

Treat Clubs Kindly
Once a golf player has a club to his liking the longer he can keep it the better. There may be many others on the market just as good as the one belonging to him, but he may have to wait a long time to find the one to take the place of that to which he had been accustomed.

SAM JONES IS BEST PITCHER
sam Jones.

Sam Jones, of the New York Yanks, is one of the best pitchers in the American league, if not the best, according to a bunch of old timers, whose opinions carry weight. In a recent fanning bee a couple of old timers got together and discussed players past and present. They chatted of this one and that one, but finally got down to Jones. "There is one of the best of the lot," said one grizzled veteran of the game. "I've seen a lot of them come and go, but none ever had more stuff and none new better what to do with it."

Baseball Notes
Harry Davis still appears at Shibe Park in uniform.
The Galveston club purchased Tom Connolly from Seattle.
The Dallas club turned the veteran pitcher, Jack Harper, loose recently.
The Galveston club sold Infielder Demoe to Fitchburg of the Eastern league.
Bobby Byrne is making a great race of it in the Mint league with his Saginaw team.
Bill Bergen, veteran catcher, who started the season with Syracuse, has been released.
Looks as if St. Louis, with Hornsby and Williams, was going to make off with the municipal home run honors.
Pitcher Bill Fincher has changed uniforms again. The Wichita Falls club bought him from Galveston.
Joe Flynn, captain and shortstop of the New York university nine, will have a trial with the Giants next season.
The Shreveport club swapped First Baseman Hack Eibel to Galveston, in exchange for Lloyd Smith and Johnny Baggan.
Pitcher Harry Lee, who has been wandering around like a ghost or something, finally has located himself with Galveston.
"Rube" Oldring, former Philadelphia Athletic outfielder, signed a contract to manage the Richmond team of the Virginia league.
George Jackson, grand old man that he is, probably is done as a player. For the second time this season his legs have gone wrong.
To make room for Pitcher Phil Bedgood, former Cracker and Pelican, the Chattanooga club released Third Baseman Eddie Stephens.
Bill Edmondson, who was about the best second baseman in the Western association last year, has been sold by Enid to McAlester.
Charles ("Dutch") Kaiser, one of the University of Illinois baseball players, has signed with the Danville Three-Eyes league team.

THEN SHE AROSE SUDDENLY

Elderly Lady Discovered She Had Made Wrong Choice of Her Resting Position.

It is hard sometimes for the old and the young to arrive at a common point of understanding. The old lady and the Sunday school boy in this story did finally arrive at an understanding, but not until the boy had suffered damage to his feelings, if not to his possessions.

A picnic was in progress, and the benevolent and elderly lady took much enjoyment in witnessing the delight of the children who were disporting themselves in her grounds.

She went from one to another, saying a few kind words to each. Presently she seated herself on a grass plot beside Dickie, a little boy with golden curls and an angelic expression. But as soon as he observed her sitting beside him Dickie set up an ear-piercing howl.

"Have you the stomach-ache?" she asked, anxiously.

"No, I ain't," snapped Dickie. "Perhaps you would like some more cake."

"No!" roared the angelic child. "What I want is my frog that I ketched."

"Frog?"

"Yes, my frog! You're sitting on him!" Philadelphia Ledger.

IN THE LAND OF ROMANCE

Commonplace Couple Only Joking When They Compared Their Different Preferences.

They were sitting in the half-darkness of the picture theater, holding hands. They were very small, pale, and insignificant. He was "something in the city," she was the same thing in the female "line."

The stirring drama upon the screen was "The Queen and the Duke."

"Ain't he a wonderful man?" applauded the girl. "I could die for a man like that—a tall, dark, handsome man, the kind that is born to rule. I don't see how she can resist him!"

Then he had his say:

"Ain't she a wonderful queen? That's the sort I like—the tall, stately woman that can look you over like a worm and go trawling them silk robes round and granting her favors with a cold, proud smile upon her beautiful lips."

"Really, Jack!"

"No, Sue; I was only joking!"

And they held each other's hands a little tighter, and the screen lost its interest for at least two more in the crowded picture house.

Unknown Australia.

A motoring expedition which will occupy months and cover ground hitherto untraversed without the aid of camels and donkeys is being undertaken from Adelaide for Darwin, returning through the bush country of Queensland, New South Wales, and Victoria, approximately 8,000 miles.

The party includes Mr. McCallum, a state legislator and authority on pastoral stock, who is financing the trip and will report to the federal government on the possibilities of settlement and development of the interior by whites, also on the benefits of a transcontinental line. Captain White, a noted ornithologist, will collect birds in connection with the Australian check list which has occupied scientists for years and will be completed in October.—London Times Weekly.

Burmese Story of Man's Origin.

A myth current among the Burmese says that heavenly beings came down from the skies to the earth, and there ate Thalesan, a particular kind of rich rice, which gradually made them gross of habit, so that they were unable to make their way back to the higher heavens again and had to become men and women.

The Chins have a story of the Tower of Babel to account for the various clans that inhabit the range of hills looking down on the Bay of Bengal, and traditions of a deluge are found everywhere.

The Kachins tell a story of the passage over a bridge, to the afterlife, and there are many more of the kind that suggest these folk-myths come down from a long-gone past.

To Tell Time Elsewhere.

For the convenience to know the time in other leading cities of the world as compared with New York time, a new desk clock has been placed on the market. This comprises an attractive brass front in the center of which is a small clock, says the New York Times. Surrounding the clock is a dial. This is marked with lines on which are placed the names of the various important cities. By turning the dial to the current time in New York the hour at San Francisco, London, Paris, Petrograd, Rio de Janeiro, Tokyo and other cities may be ascertained. The dial is marked with a dark portion, representing the night hours, and the entire face is easily read.

Increasing World's Food Supply.

Col. R. J. Stordy, who was chief veterinary surgeon of the British armies during the war, has taken to the pastoral life now—but on a very large scale. He is raising sheep and cattle on the high pampas of southern Peru, under the aegis of the Peruvian government and the Peruvian corporation. His experimental and survey work he finds absorbing, and he expresses the opinion that some day this region will become one of the richest grazing territories in the world through expert breeding of the country's valuable native wool-bearing animals, the vicuna and guanaco.

ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Suite 612 First National Bank Building,
NOTICE OF INCORPORATION

"U. S. THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY".

Public Notice is hereby given, that we, the undersigned, Jos. A. Bradley, Fred H. Parker and Wm. C. Raapke, have associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming and becoming a corporation under the laws of the State of Nebraska, and for that purpose we do hereby make, execute and adopt the following Articles of Incorporation: The name of the corporation shall be and is: "Theatre Supply Company". The principal-office and place of transacting the business of this corporation shall be in the city of Omaha, Douglas County, Nebraska, but it shall have the right and power to establish branch offices and agencies and to do business in any other state, county or city in the United States. The general nature of the business to be transacted by this corporation shall be: to buy, sell, trade, manufacture and generally deal in all kinds of theatrical and electrical supplies and equipment, both at wholesale and retail and as brokers and agents; to own, operate, buy, sell, build or lease all kinds of theatres and places of amusement; to acquire, own, lease, encumber, convey or otherwise deal in such property, real and personal, which may be necessary, convenient, or expedient for the carrying on of the business, and the purposes herein set forth; and it shall have power to borrow money for the transaction of the corporate business and to issue securities in connection with the same. The authorized Capital Stock of this corporation shall be Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00), divided into two hundred (200) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each, all of which shall be Common Stock. All of said stock shall be fully paid for when issued and thereafter shall be non-assessable. Stock may be paid for either in cash or by the transfer to the corporation of real or personal property at such values as may be fixed by the Board of Directors. In no event shall the stockholders or their private property be liable for the debts or obligation of this corporation. The corporation shall be authorized to commence business when One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) of its Capital Stock shall be subscribed and paid for. The time of commencement of this corporation shall be the 6th day of May, 1922, and the termination thereof on the 6th day of May, 1972. The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time subject itself, shall not exceed two-thirds (2-3) of its Capital Stock. The business and affairs of this corporation shall be managed by a Board of not less than two (2) nor more than five (5) Directors, who shall be elected by and from the stockholders at their annual meeting for a term of one (1) year, and the number for the ensuing year shall be fixed at every such annual meeting; said Directors shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified, and any vacancy occurring in the office of a Director may be filled by the remaining Directors without election by the stockholders. The following named persons shall be Directors of this corporation until the next annual meeting, or until their successors shall be elected and qualified, to-wit:

Jos. A. Bradley, Omaha, Nebraska.
Fred H. Parker, Omaha, Nebraska.
Wm. C. Raapke, Omaha, Nebraska.

Upon their election, the Board of Directors shall promptly organize, by electing from their number a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, who shall hold office for a term of one year usually performed by such officers, unless otherwise fixed by the Board of Directors. Any two (2) of said officers may be held by one and the same person, provided however, that the office of President and Vice-President may not be held by the same person. The Board of Directors shall have power to make and prescribe By-Laws for the proper conduct of the business of this corporation and they shall hold meetings at such times as may be by them determined. The annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation shall be held in the City of Omaha on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of each year. These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any regular meeting of Stockholders or at any Special meeting called for that purpose, upon five (5) days' notice in writing on a vote of the owners of a majority of the stock issued and outstanding.
